County Fair and 4-H Exhibit Here Aug. 15, 16, 17

School Grounds to be Site Of Exhibit; First Held Since 1941

The Lake county fair will be held in Antioch August 15, 16, and 17. Resumed after a lapse of six years caused by the World War, the annual exhibit of the county's products is being returned to this village in which it was last held in 1941.

The Antioch Township High school grounds east of the Soo line tracks, where tents will be put up, will serve to house a part of the exhibits and the rest will be in the school building itself.

The board of directors in setting aside the three days, Friday, Saturday, and Sunday, is planning to do everything possible to provide Lake county with a first class agricultural fair, officials said.

Although the details have not yet been worked out, the board will meet in the near future to complete their plans.

The agricultural 4-H club show will be held in conjunction with the fair. Farm Adviser Ray T. Nicholas said. The 4-H show was held last year at Gurnee although the fair could not be staged because of lack of equipment.

Directors of the fair are D. H. Minto, E. E. Elsbury, Earl Kane, Jr., Bert Edwards, William Chandler, Eugene Leitch, and Harry Tillotson. Business institutions who wish to have booths at the fair have been told to notify the Farm Bureau office at Grayslake.

Waterfowl Inventory Shows Fewer Ducks

For the third successive year American waterfowl populations have declined drastically. Secretary of the Interior J. A. Krug announced today. The report of the Secretary is based on the most complete annual inventory ever conducted by the Fish and Wildlife Service.

The January count shows total populations of ducks and geese amounting to only 54,000,000, a drop of 26,000,000 under last year's figures. Service Director Albert M. Day said in a report to Secretary Krug. "This disappointing figure is the result of an analysis of extensive continental survey data compiled from the efforts of more than 1,000 trained observers covering the important waterfowl habitat in the United States, Alaska, Canada and coastal Latin America," he said. "Improvements in the technique and increase in coverage were accomplished by the Fish and Wildlife Service aircraft supported by use of Coast Guard, Navy, and Army planes. Aerial photography was used as a means of checking estimates by field observers."

In spite of the fact that waterfowl numbers have fallen to a low comparable to 1939, the Service Director does not now think it necessary to establish a complete closed season for the fall of 1947. During the extreme dry period of a few years ago when the duck population was only about half as large as it is today, Mr. Day recalled, a break in the drought and limited shooting led to a satisfactory increase.

"In the light of existing knowledge," he said, "I still think the Service will be able to recommend some kind of an open season. Just what it will be depends to a large extent on conditions in the breeding grounds next summer."

V. J. Keeney Retires as Soo Line Agent, Sells Home to go to Missouri

Mr. and Mrs. V. J. Keeney have sold their home at 735 Main st., to Mr. and Mrs. Don Berkheiser of Antioch and will leave soon for Mt. Grove, Mo., to make their home.

Mr. Keeney has retired from his position as agent for the Soo line in Antioch after 31 years of service in the employ of that company. Extra men will take his place for the next month or so before a permanent agent is announced.

The Keeneys have many friends in Antioch who regret they are leaving the community.

Extinguish Grass Fire
The Antioch fire department was called to extinguish a grass fire at the Rothers resort Monday.

Capacity Crowd Attends Grade School Festival At High School Friday

A large crowd attended the Spring Festival of the Antioch grade school at the high school building last Friday evening, and appeared well pleased with the program.

The result of the festival is that a nice sum of money will be added to the fund used in purchasing musical equipment for the school, and Hans von Holwede and the room teachers are receiving many compliments on their effective teaching.

The rhythm band and the kindergarten class activities had a tendency to steal the show because of the cute actions of the children, but the western review by the third and fourth grades and the music of various states by the fifth and sixth grades drew much interest.

What can be done with beginners in band work was exemplified to a good advantage by Von Holwede in the two numbers by the grade school band and the accompaniments to the choral numbers by the seventh and eighth grade choruses.

Use of popular music was quite advantageous in bringing out a good response from the chorus and at the same time illustrate certain fundamentals of group singing.

Antioch Rescue Squad Alerted for Possible Service at Texas City

Members of the Antioch Rescue squad were on the alert for instructions to proceed to Texas City, Texas, for service in rescue work at the scene of the disastrous explosions which have killed hundreds and injured thousands of persons.

Captain Herman Holbek of the squad was contacted today by National Red Cross Disaster headquarters and given instructions to be ready for a call to proceed to the scene. Holbek said that several members of the squad had volunteered to make the trip and that if orders to go were received the squad would be under way within a short time. He added that headquarters had told him that the orders to report at Texas City might come "very soon."

The series of explosions which have almost razed the Texas city of 15,000 were touched off by the burning of a French ship, the Grand Camp, which was tied to a pier unloading chemicals. The exploding ship caused explosions in nearby manufacturing plants. At least three additional explosions which have occurred today have added to the damage and swelled the total of injured.

It is not certain whether the call will be for use of the Antioch equipment or whether the need is for trained men only. In any case Holbek said that enough men and materials would be on hand here to take care of any emergency which might arise while the squadmen are away.

Antioch FFA Member in Organization's State Band Having 73 Players

Carlyle Harris, of Bristol, Wis., is one of 73 Future Farmers in Illinois chosen to play in the Illinois State Future Farmers band. The young man is a member of the Antioch Chapter of Future Farmer of America and was chosen from among many nominated as being an outstanding performer on his instrument, the alto saxophone.

The band will play for the state FFA convention at Urbana, June 2 and 3. Plans are under way for the band to appear at the 1947 Illinois State Fair. The band was planned and developed by Paul Walker, vocational agriculture instructor at Newton, and will be directed by Maurice Russell, Newton High school band director.

Members have been named from all sections of Illinois. A great deal of interest is being shown in the band, according to Director Russell. Some of its members may be included in the National FFA Band, which will play for the national convention of Future Farmers at Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 19-22.

Antioch P T A Club to Elect Officers Monday

The Antioch grade school Parent-Teacher club will meet Monday evening, April 21, at which time there will be an election of officers for the ensuing year.

Mrs. Orpha L. White of the Lake County Tuberculosis association will give a talk on tuberculosis and show films of modern methods of treating it.

Change To Natural Gas In Antioch Scheduled By P.S.C. for Next Week

Service Men Will Visit Homes, Business Places to Correct Burners

Specially trained gas service men from the Public Service Company of Northern Illinois will begin making calls at all homes and stores in Antioch next week preparatory to the introduction of natural gas, it was announced today by G. W. Joedicke, district superintendent for the utility.

The conversion to straight natural gas is a part of an expansion program designed to meet the growing demands for gas in north and northwest suburban communities. Over 50,000 gas users in 37 communities will receive the new natural gas when the conversion program is completed.

All costs in connection with the change-over will be borne by the company.

These specially trained men will visit all customers' premises in Antioch during the next several days to adjust the burners on gas stoves, water heaters, furnaces, and other gas appliances preparatory to turning the new natural gas into the local distribution system.

After the change-over is completed, a final inspection and adjustment of all burners will be made, G. W. Joedicke said.

"During the few days between the first adjustment and final inspection," he said, "some householders may experience a slightly lower flame on their gas burners until the new gas reaches their premises."

Notices outlining the change-over program are being sent this week by mail to all customers in the city (village or town).

All company service men engaged in the change-over operation will carry identification cards, G. W. Joedicke said.

V.F.W. and Auxiliary Will Have Installation In Public at 19th Hole

The public is invited to the joint installation of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and its Auxiliary at 9 p. m. Saturday at the dining room of the 19th Hole, Rte 59, officers have announced.

Carl E. Ries, senior vice commander of the Department of Illinois, assisted by Joseph A. Jelley, senior vice commander of the fifth district, Department of Illinois, will install the VFW officers and Katherine Hoagland and her staff of the fifth district will install the woman's auxiliary.

Robert Strang will become commander of the VFW and Mrs. Roger Flint will be installed as president of the Auxiliary.

Village Board Canvasses Vote at Once and Plans Organization Meeting

The final ballot in Tuesday's election had been counted but a short time when members of the village board met and canvassed the vote, confirming the election of Maplethorpe, Dalgard and Cunningham as trustees.

President George Bartlett announced yesterday that one more meeting of the old board would be held, and that some time during the last few days of the month the new board would meet to take up new business as establishing license fees.

The absence of the clerk, Laurel D. Powles, on vacation in Florida, prevents the setting of a definite date for the meetings at this time Bartlett said.

The several changes on the board calls for a complete re-organization which will be effected before May 1.

Antioch Girl Wins in Oratory
Billie Mae Runyard, of Antioch, recently represented Whitewater Teachers college in the state oratorical contest at Ripon College, Ripon, Wis., taking first place in the women's division.

At a formal dinner of Zeta Eta Theta sorority on the Whitewater campus she gave the oration, "My Brother's Keeper."

Firemen's Dance Successful

The firemen's dance Saturday was fairly well attended and the profit was placed in the building fund. The hall rental was donated to the firemen by the American Legion.

The Hot Stove League

No Change In Telephone Strike; Urgent Calls Only

Antioch is well within its second week of no telephone service without indication of any immediate settlement of the strike.

The offer of Secretary of Labor Swellenbach to mediate the differences between the telephone company and operators brought a ray of hope Tuesday, but the result was only an extension of the dispute from two to three parties with the federal government condemning both labor and management.

Antioch organizations and business worked at a handicap. The Grass Lake school board found contractors unable to furnish bids for their new school because of lack of communication in getting materials.

Social groups were operating awkwardly or not at all.

The local telephone company is taking care of the few emergency calls rapidly.

In the meantime the pickets are keeping up their endless patrol of exchanges and what was a lark at first, now is settling into a job more tiresome and uncomfortable than switchboard operating. The weather has been none too conducive to outdoors activities.

Antioch High Tracksters Open Conference Meets In Barrington Tuesday

Antioch High school tracksters will open their conference schedule Tuesday afternoon in a dual meet at Barrington.

Although the Sequoits defeated Warren high here last Thursday 65 to 20 there wasn't enough real competition to test the strength of the local team, and Coach Maurice Krizan is not able to forecast the outcome.

While possessing winners in most events, the Antioch team doesn't appear to have enough good material to insure enough second and third places. Especially is this true in the distant races. In the broad jump and shot put are they somewhat weak, but they have strength in the hurdles.

The meet here last Thursday was scheduled to be a three-team affair, but Grant Township High school believing the weather too bad for the meet, and not being able to check by telephone, did not come, leaving the contest a dual affair.

As the score indicated, the Sequoits had things pretty much their own way, Warren having gathered most of its points on seconds and thirds. The Antioch Sophomore-Freshman team will meet Palatine at Palatine Friday afternoon. A week from today they will meet Barrington on their home grounds.

The Sophomore-Freshman track meet here Tuesday resulted in a victory for Zion although Antioch made a good showing. The cold weather has not yet permitted Coach Richard Payn's men to get in good shape yet and they still won't be at their best when they meet Palatine there tomorrow night.

Pinsetter Hurt in Quarrel

John Wittekind, a pin setter at the Antioch Recreation, suffered a scalp injury last Sunday when he was struck on the head by a bowling pin wielded by another pin setter. The youth was taken to a Waukegan hospital for x-ray pictures and it was learned that he had no skull fracture. He has gone to his home in Chicago to recuperate.

Three New Village Trustees Chosen Over Incumbents

Maplethorpe, Cunningham Dalgard on Citizens Ticket Winners

Antioch voters turned to youth for the conduct of village affairs Tuesday when in a vote that generally was surprising they chose James E. Maplethorpe, Winsor A. Dalgard, and Merrill Cunningham to replace Arthur Rosenfeldt, Elmer Rentner, and George Wagner seeking re-election as trustees.

The complete Citizens ticket with no fewer than 206 straight ballots won. Maplethorpe received 328 votes, Dalgard 301, and Cunningham 277.

The Peoples ticket on which the older men now holding office ran, received but 32 straight ballots and the vote was Rosenfeldt 165, Rentner 111, and Wagner 66.

Edward A. Knickelbein, running on an independent ticket received 38 votes.

Various reasons were given for the upset. The opponents of those now serving waged their campaign on a promise of immediate action in the cause of village improvements. Their contention was that the present administration is too conservative and is moving too slowly.

The contention of friends of some of those in office is that they made no effort at vote getting and merely placed their names on the ballot to insure a board.

The defeat of Rosenfeldt was a big surprise even to those on the opposing tickets. His independent thinking and action had not stamped him as a "party" man.

The number of ballots cast was 430 with 15 being spoiled and uncounted.

The ballots were counted and results known within an hour after the polls closed.

Fox Lake Also Revolts

Kenneth Minahan, James Putz and Jerry Havelka won over five others seeking the posts of village trustees. Milton Bennett, only one of the three trustees whose terms expired sought re-election and he ran sixth. A total of 739 votes were cast.

The results were Minahan 400, Havelka 294, Putz 258, Charles Mayhew 271, Isaac Detrey 232, Bennett 151, Clarence Hansen 138, and Max Eggers 26.

Unopposed for the library positions Evelyn Lumber received 471 and Norma Riggs 449 votes.

No Opposition at Lake Villa

With no opposition the Lake Villa candidates received votes as follows: Clerk Clark W. Reinebach 36, Trustees Frank Slazes 35, Kaurin Karolius 34, and Zens Zenor 34.

Rehearsals In Progress For Senior Class Play

Rehearsals for the Senior class play, "Ever Since Eve," are now in full swing at Antioch Township High school.

The play, to be presented on Thursday, May 15 and Friday, May 16, is under the direction of Miss Jannette Darrough. The Senior class advisors, Miss Thersa Wehr and Hans von Holwede are supervising the advertising and the sale of tickets for the play.

"Ever Since Eve," as the title suggests, tells of woman's age-long struggle to free herself of man's domination, to become his mental equal, and if possible, to surpass him in his efforts.

This three act comedy is brought to high school age levels as the teenage girls seek to wield their influence in publishing the school paper. Man's pride forces him to resent female intrusion of his world with all possible virility. The culminating situation is one that could only be developed by the energetic minds of active high school students.

High School Patrons Elect Officers for Year

The Antioch High school social committee meeting Wednesday night, April 9, elected as new officers Mrs. E. J. McDougall, chairman; Mrs. Maurice Radtke, treasurer; and Mrs. Harry Shank, secretary.

The men had their own games in the gymnasium of the high school and the women table games in the reception room. All assembled for the box lunch.

There will be no more meetings of the group until next fall.

Channel Lake Women Plan Card Party and Dance to Outdoor Men's Program

The women of the Channel Lake Community club will sponsor a card party and dance, at the Channel Lake school house at 8 p. m. Saturday, April 26.

Mrs. Nick Zein will head the committee in charge of the evening. Last time the men staged the party serving turkey sandwiches and attracting the biggest crowd the organization has had. The women are meeting the challenge to outdo them and their menu will feature barbecued sandwiches.

The profits will go to the hot lunch fund.

Economic Highlights

One of the remarkable anomalies of the time is that while most business is operating at extremely high production levels, a great many industrial leaders are seriously worried about the not-so-distant future. They see pitfalls ahead. This attitude is the result of the obvious fact that a great many consumers—and especially those in the middle-income brackets who used to absorb most of the output of our smoking factories—are being priced out of the market.

The signs are growing plainer for anyone who takes the trouble to look. That of debbil, high prices, is a dark cloud on the economic horizon. In some strictly luxury fields, such as the night club business, conditions are worsening fast. Many a club has been forced to rid itself of expensive floor shows and to engage cheaper bands. Liquor sales have declined. Sales of costly fur coats, jewelry and cosmetics have fallen sharply. The great wartime spree, when you could sell practically anything at any price, is but a diminishing shadow of its former lusty self.

The price cloud likewise hangs over basic lines of goods—the kind of goods whose mass production keeps the American economy in motion. The most obvious example here is automobiles. Dealers everywhere report cancellations of orders, as disappointed people take a look at the price tags. Some motor manufacturers have frankly forecast that by the end of the year salesmen will be out looking for purchasers. This more cautious attitude on the part of consumers is reflected in many fields, and one result of it is that large retail buyers are placing their orders with great care.

What it all adds up to is that millions of people now have more money—but less buying power. Prices and living costs have outrun increases in salaries and income. An article in a recent issue of the New Republic, by Bernard Posner, entitled "What'll We Use For Dought?" deals vividly with this sad fact. Mr. Posner describes himself as a typical $5000-a-year man with a wife and baby. Families in this income bracket—which is, of course, well above the average—are supposed to be steady and dependable buyers of new cars, expensive radio-phonograph combinations, fine clothes, super-deluxe kitchen equipment, and so forth. Mr. Posner's article goes into complete detail as to what happens to his money. Out of his $416.67 monthly paycheck, $48.67 is retained for withholding taxes. Rent takes $65, and food about $95. An ancient car costs $25 to operate at best, and laundry, cleaning and diaper service run to $22. Clothes call for $20, and such things as insurance, telephone, and a monthly Savings Bond total around $40. Recreation and charity cost $25, and $5 is spent for newspapers and other reading matter. His lunches consume $20, and house-cleaning equipment, bathroom necessities, furniture, and odds and ends demand close to $30 more. So it goes, with the money budgeted carefully, until at the end of the month nothing is left. These costs are typical of a vast number of families in and about the $5000 income level. Nothing remains for that shiny new car or that amazing refrigerator with the built-in deep-freeze unit.

If the $5000-a-year family is in this position, what about those with substantially lesser incomes? A survey made by the National Housing Agency last summer contained a section on the earnings of war veterans. It found that only 4 out of each 100 made $80 a week or more. The average weekly income of married vets was $48. These incomes may be somewhat higher now, but they are still far below the level that will permit buying on the scale needed to keep the industrial machine functioning once the shortages are made up.

It is hard to find a reputable economist who believes that more and more wage increases are the real answer to the cost of living problem. The reason for that is that significant wage increases are almost inevitably followed by price increases which more than offset the gains. Industry, obviously, can meet its bills only by pricing its wares in accordance with operating costs. This wage-price spiral, if allowed to go on unchecked, always winds up with unbridled inflation of the kind that plagues Europe and China. Money can be measured only in terms of what it will buy. An inflation always hits hardest the white-collar class which has been the backbone of the economy.

Tax reduction will help, but not as much as some people seem to think. For instance, if the new tax bill, in the form approved by the House, becomes law, a four-member family with $2500 net income would save only 50 cents a week—and the same family at the $5000 net level would save only $2 a week. These savings would hardly permit "luxurious" living.

A good many experts are convinced that prices are due to come down—but there is much disagreement as to just how far down they can possibly go. Consumer resistance is a factor in this, but the fact remains that no one can long sell goods without a profit. And some very convincing surveys have been made which indicate that business, by and large, is pricing products about as low as today's running costs will permit.

The prophets are being extremely cautious in predicting what will happen. But some of them feel sure that there are difficulties ahead.

The Low Down From Hickory Grove

I just been readin' an "apple-cart upsetter." The piece bores holes in the bottom of the boat of the boys who been saying the Govt. should take over this business or that business, and let the people have the profits.

The piece is in the Pacific Rural Press. It says a grand jury has concluded that the street car situation in San Francisco is the worst in the U. S. A.—and the grand jury also says, and recommends, a return of the street cars there to private ownership—where efficiency, it says, has not been tossed out the window.

I kinda half-way feel sorry for those 2 fisted folks there in that old town with its rip-snotin', roarin' reputation for hardness, for being took-in by this pinkish idea of City ownership—with easy profits. With the old roulette wheel, those native sons had almost a 50-50 chance—they should have stayed with same. They know it now.

Yours with the low down,
JO SERRA

That oriental rugs were popular in Europe centuries ago is disclosed by old paintings. When Paris Bordoni in the 16th century painted his famous ceremonial picture, a fine oriental rug was used for the center of the steps.

GAS OIL TIRES AND BATTERIES

GENERAL REPAIRING

JACOBSEN MOWERS

AN IMPORTANT MESSAGE TO THOSE
CONSIDERING GAS HEATINGNO GAS IS AVAILABLE FOR ADDITIONAL SPACE HEATING

Early in 1945, the Public Service Company of Northern Illinois foresaw its need for substantially greater quantities of natural gas. It applied to the pipe line companies which transmit gas from the Texas fields to this area, to increase their facilities and supply it with more gas. The pipe line companies, acting upon that request, ordered steel pipe to expand their systems even before they were granted the required federal regulatory authorization.

Expected delivery of this pipe has been prevented by a nation-wide shortage of steel. Even though the Public Service Company of Northern Illinois and the pipe line companies have done everything within their power, necessary expansion of the pipe line system has not been completed. Therefore the Company regrets that it has been obliged to impose these restrictions limiting the addition of gas heating customers:

1. No additional residential space heating (except those homes not yet connected that qualified for service July 16, 1946) until such time as additional gas becomes available.

2. No additional commercial or industrial space heating.

To protect the supply of gas to present customers, violators face discontinuance of all gas service.

The Company at all times considers as its first obligation the continuance of service to residential customers and for essential community needs. It will protect this service in every way possible.

WHY SHOULD I INSULATE MY HOME?

Why have over 30,000 Johns-Manville "Blown In" Home Insulation jobs been done here in Northern Illinois? Why are so many homes having all the sidewalls filled with Johns-Manville Home Insulation?

Why does anyone who has had their home insulated with Johns-Manville insulation say that it is the best investment they ever made? Why do others who have never had insulation say they are skeptical about having insulation? Why have Johns-Manville insulation users called for their second, third, fourth and even fifth, "Blown In" insulation job. Why is a Johns-Manville Insulated Home so much cooler in the summer? Why do you save so much fuel after insulating? How does Johns-Manville Rock Wool make you house more fire-proof?

It is guaranteed not to settle. Can my home be insulated? These, and many more questions I will be pleased answer; if you want to know more about Johns-Manville Home Insulation write or call ERNEST C. ANDREAS, Dist. Manager, Mundelein Ill. Phone 669-R-2, or

The subject of the present conference is "Pastoral Ministry" and the leader is the Rev. Otis R. Rice, chaplain of St. Luke's hospital in New York city and instructor in the Dept. of Pastoral Theology at the General Theological Seminary.

Participants in the conference are invited by the College from all parts of the country. There are lectures and group discussions, planned not only to instruct, but to suggest practical improvements, in mannerisms, methods of sermon delivery and teaching. A typical activity, which makes for the College's uniqueness, is the preaching. Every invited minister must deliver a sermon before the group, after which constructive criticism is offered by the other in attendance and members of the College staff.

Veterans Are Warned to File for Their Terminal Leave Pay

The Illinois Veterans Commission today issued a warning to veterans of World War II that only five months remain in which they can file claim for terminal leave pay.

On Sept. 1, 1947 veterans will lose their opportunity to receive remuneration for furloughs and leaves not taken in service.

The Army has revealed that almost two-thirds of the money allocated for terminal leave payments this fiscal year has been paid out, but that an estimated five million veterans—nearly half of those eligible—have not yet applied.

Service Officer Arthur G. Adams, whose office is located at American Legion Home, Waukegan, Ill., has terminal leave applications and is ready to advise and assist veterans in filing now.

Past Overtakes Robber Fugitive Hiding Six Years

Gave Up Good Life He Had Built for Himself When Faced With Old.

PHILADELPHIA.—In a few minutes of time one day recently, Frederick Lott, 47, quietly gave up the new life he had built for himself over six years in this city. It was the life in which he was married to a nice girl, had a comfortable home, worked regularly, earned an honest living and had a lot of fun being an average guy.

But there had been the other life before this one, the one he had almost forgotten; there was the past he could not quite escape, not even in the average home, his typical neighborhood.

It caught up to him finally, this past, in the freakish manner that so often delights the fates, and he stood before Judge Harry S. McDevitt in the city hall, and said, very quietly:

"I agree to waive extradition." And there wasn't anything else he could do. It had to be the end, for a time at least.

So he went back to New York, where he has been wanted as a fugitive ever since 1940.

Burglary Charged.

In 1940, Lott was captured by New York police after a shot-punctuated chase. He was wounded in the leg and hand, and charged with burglary as the result of a series of safe robberies.

With his partner, he went on trial. Both of them were free under $5,000 bail at the time, and one day the partner just didn't show. He left a note, telling of his runout. Lott decided he'd better run away, too.

He jumped through a window in the Criminal Courts building and escaped.

He came to this city, changed his name to Miller and went to work in an industrial plant. There he met the 17-year-old girl who fell in love with him and became his wife. They were married in Elkton, Md.

They set up their home in the Kensington section of the city. They were like most any married couple. "I was living an honest life. I've been honest ever since the day I came to Philadelphia."

Glad It's Over.

Then, early this year, there had been another series of safe jobs in this city. Detectives John McCrory and Andrew Kelleher were working on them.

Investigating in Kensington, they picked up a safe robber and he told them about a man named Miller.

They looked over the rogue's gallery picture. They made the arrest. It was as simple as that.

There was nothing Lott could say except: "I'm the guy."

He admitted he was the one wanted in New York since 1940. The appearance before Judge McDevitt was perfunctory. The detectives from New York were waiting for him. They took him into custody.

"Now that it's happened, I'm glad it's over with," Lott said, before he began his trip away from the good life.

"I want to go back and face the music, and take whatever penalty I get. Then, some day, I can come back here and really start over right, without anything behind me."

Countess Hit by Snowball

As She Christens New Ship

LONDON.—A snowball hit the Countess of Dudley squarely in the face as she stepped forward to christen a new 3,200-ton cross-channel steamship at its launching at Birkenhead yards.

The missile was a stray toss from a lively snowball fight among playful workmen impatiently awaiting the launching in a heavy snow flurry.

The countess laughed, heaved her bouquet at the battling workmen, turned to the ship and said, "I christen thee St. David."

Newborn Infant Saved From Starvation by Operation

SAN FRANCISCO.—A surgeon's skillful hands saved the life of a newborn infant who otherwise would have starved to death.

When Kenneth Orestis was born, he was unable to take nourishment because his oesophagus, through which food passes, ended in a closed pouch not connected with his stomach.

Dr. Emile Holman, chief surgeon at Stanford hospital, removed three ribs from the baby's right side, then connected the oesophagus with the stomach.

Canadian Aid in War Put at Close to 4 Billion Dollars

OTTAWA.—Canada, in addition to financing her own war effort, contributed close to four billion dollars worth of supplies, foods and war materials to warring nations and liberated countries, the government said. The Canadian Mutual Aid board's final report said that materials and supplies furnished the United Nations from September 1, 1943, to September 1, 1945, totaled $2,471,212,000.

Turkish Bath Robbed; Bandits Got $18,000

NEW YORK.—Seven armed and masked bandits, in a well-rehearsed robbery, escaped with $18,000 in money, jewels and other valuables from a Coney Island Turkish bath house recently.

The daring holdup was executed in the early dawn as 200 guests slept upstairs.

Confession Clears Man Serving Life

Police and FBI May Prove Wrong Person Is in Prison.

FRESNO, CALIF.—Police and F.B.I. agents checked a story which may prove the wrong man is serving a life term for a killing near a Kansas army camp 32 months ago.

In prison serving life is former Pvt. A. B. Richie, Hickory, N. C., who had successfully appealed from a death sentence for the slaying of Corp. Pete De Fusco, Uniontown, Pa., near Camp Phillips. And in custody here is Otho Charles Stockdale, 25, Fresno locomotive fireman, whom Detective Sgt. S. G. Vind quoted as saying:

"He (De Fusco) didn't like the brand of whisky I'd bought, so I hit him. Well, then he seemed to be dead."

Richie, according to this version, was not involved in any way in the death.

Vind said Stockdale surrendered to police and related his story of De Fusco's death—breaking a 32-month silence. While the story is being investigated, Stockdale is held on a charge of failure to possess a draft card.

Vind said Stockdale described De Fusco's death as "just one of those things . . . I stole a jeep . . . drove it out . . . and bought a fifth of whisky. I got a little tanked up and drove back into camp and picked up this soldier (De Fusco) . . . I don't remember everything that happened, but we got to arguing."

The sergeant said Stockdale's conscience hadn't bothered him about Richie's conviction for the killing, because, the fireman explained, "I didn't know the guy."

Only President Truman's action on an appeal saved Richie from execution.

Leaps 1,000 Feet to Death; Hits Woman on Street Below

NEW YORK.—David H. Gordon Jr., 28, leaped to his death from the 86th floor of the Empire State building. His body struck and injured seriously a woman passerby on the sidewalk below.

The pedestrian, Mrs. Mervin S. Coover, 51, of Ames, Iowa, wife of the head of the electrical engineering department at Iowa State college, was badly injured.

Police said Gordon made the 1,000-foot leap from the world's tallest building after telling Chief Petty Officer James Lambert, another visitor on the observation floor, "I'm going to jump."

Max Furman, an assistant state attorney general, identified Gordon as his nephew and said he had been "depressed" since his release from the army on a medical discharge a year ago.

Dreams of Life in Woods; Flier Meets Death Instead

SANTA ROSA, CALIF.—Homer Canellis, 23, air corps lieutenant, told the army nurse he married in Burma that some day he would find peace among the redwoods.

After the war they came to near-by Cazadero to live. Each day they climbed a rugged trail in their jeep to a logging job and worked side by side. One day they selected a towering redwood tree and toppled it with a power saw.

It crashed onto another tree, which also fell and pinned the couple to the ground. Canellis was killed. His wife was injured critically and lay for 14 hours in the rain before Canellis' brother, Thesis, found her. A rescue party cut the fallen tree to extricate Mrs. Canellis. Both her legs were broken and she had internal injuries.

Dad Goes to Bring Mother, Baby Crawls to Icy Death

PRINCETON, ILL.—A father told authorities that his 15-month-old son, Kelly Powers, was snug asleep in his crib when the child was last seen alive.

Four hours after Glenn Powers left his child to bring his wife home from a Princeton hospital where she was employed, the child's frozen body was found in the yard. The infant apparently had crawled from the house into the near zero temperature. A coroner's jury found the death accidental.

Star Shell Kills Sailor on Missouri at Target Practice

WASHINGTON.—The 45,000-ton battleship Missouri was hit by a star shell during target practice in the North Atlantic, the navy revealed. One man died of burns. The accident occurred December 4 while the Missouri was on a training cruise to Argentina, N. F. The victim was Coxswain Arthur Fountain of Thorndyke, Mass.

Serving Cabbage
One of the best ways to utilize the full food value of cabbage is to serve it in the form of a fresh salad. That way there is no loss through cooking, and there will be little loss by exposure to air if the cabbage is cut shortly before serving time.

Radiant Heat
Use of radiant heat is relatively new, but the principles involved have been known for at least 2,000 years.

Primrose Wine
Primroses are so numerous in England they are used to make a wine similar to dandelion wine.

Cleaning Hint
If food boils over on your electric range unit, it's best to let it char and then brush off.

Cheap Nutrients
For extra vitamins and iron at low cost, use breads of whole grain or enriched flour. Use molasses often instead of white sugar in cooking, as a cheap source of iron.

Ancient Pure-Food Law
One Roman pure-food law prohibited the sale of any fish that had lost its lustre.

Echo Canyon
Every word you speak is flung back in your face in Echo Canyon, located on the north side of Camelback mountain near Phoenix, Ariz.

Carburetor Waste
It has been estimated that more than $24,000,000 is wasted annually by improper carburetor adjustment alone.

Dies in Poverty With $167,000; Sisters Starve

Rubbish Pile Yields Fortune In Mortgages, Bonds, Bank Deposits.

NEW YORK.—The wizened old lady slowly climbed down the three flights to a neighbor's tenement apartment, knocked timidly on the door and when the neighbor appeared asked for a cup of coffee.

Delia Edwards, 67, had been doing this for many a day, so it was to make conversation that the neighbor, Mrs. Mary Bennett, asked:

"How's your brother, Miss Delia?"

Still sipping the hot coffee, and pulling her old sweater tighter about her to fight off the cold, the woman muttered:

"I think Charlie's dead. Hasn't moved since Saturday."

Calls for Priest.

Mrs. Bennett immediately called a priest who climbed the dank staircase into the squalor of the Edwards' apartment. There the priest saw the withered body of Charles Edwards, 77, covered with an old-fashioned nightgown, kneeling on the floor beside his unmade bed, his head buried in his hands in an attitude of prayer.

In another dusty bedroom, piled with yellowed newspapers and remains of unfinished meals, lay Miss Anna Edwards, 69, pleading for food.

The priest called police. The police physician studied the ancient figure kneeling as if in supplication. He took out his card and wrote:

"Dead on arrival. Natural causes."

Unearth Fortune.

The women were taken to Kings County hospital where doctors diagnosed Anna Edwards' ailment as malnutrition.

The neighbors talked. They said the Edwardses had lived in such poverty as long as they could remember.

And they recalled that the only extravagance the Edwardses ever indulged in was Delia's custom of occasionally slipping out to buy an ice cream cone after her brother had gone to bed.

Soon the detectives came. In desultory fashion they dusted off the documents and papers that littered the Brooklyn coldwater flat. Then they stopped short.

For underneath all the rubbish were bankbooks listing $67,000 in deposits and mortgages and bonds valued at $100,000.

Auto Is Set Aflame After Boys Strike Second Car and Flee

CHICAGO.—Two youths who abandoned an automobile after they had sideswiped another car apparently returned and set their vehicle on fire, police said.

The car driven by the youths sideswiped that of Donald and Raymond Pniwski. The Pniwskis told police that after a chase, the youths were cornered.

There the youths offered to pay for the damage, saying that they would get the money from a nearby apartment where they lived. They disappeared.

When the Pniwskis reported the incident to the police, they learned that the car had been set afire. The auto was registered to Edward J. Jensen of Fox Lake.

Child Sees Dad Kill Mother;

Beer Bottle Used as Bludgeon

HOWELL, MICH.—Sheriff's deputies said Almon Brewer confessed that he bludgeoned his pretty young wife to death with a beer bottle while their 3-year-old son looked on.

They said Brewer told them he beat his wife savagely on the forehead during a quarrel. Then, according to the confession, he sat beside the body with his young son Billy for more than four hours and tried to "think my way out of it."

The Brewers' nearest neighbor is about half a mile away.

The couple had been married for six years and had lived in the cabin three years. Brewer, 41, is a painter and tree sprayer.

Woman, Aged 64, Clubs to Death Burglar Found Hiding

LOS ANGELES.—A 21-year-old burglar was clubbed to death by a 64-year-old woman who found him hiding in her kitchen.

The victim was identified as Matthew R. Rudolph.

Mrs. Talbert Founder slugged the intruder with a length of pipe while her 88-year-old husband fired futilely at him with an automatic.

Amputee Is Killed as Gift

Auto Is Wrecked in Crash

PITTSBURGH, PA.—A veteran who lost a leg in the Battle of the Bulge was one of two persons killed when the automobile the government gave him as a gift for his service skidded and crashed.

The victims were John Flaherty, 21, who received the car in October under a plan voted in congress to make some substantial award to amputees, and his boyhood buddy, Robert Maginn, 24, also a veteran.

Boy Is Rescued From

Pond by Helicopter

CENTRAL FALLS, R. I.—Edward Koussa, 14, was rescued by a helicopter after 20 firemen were unable to save him from drowning in an ice-covered pond at Valley Falls park.

The youth fell through the ice after accepting a dare to cross the large pond. He crashed through the ice when part way across.

Husband Loses Out

In Race With Death

Finds Wife Dead at Telephone After Calling Him.

ATLANTA.—F. M. Crossitt's co-workers looked up in surprise when he banged down the telephone receiver and dashed out of the office. They didn't know that Crossitt was racing against time.

Crossitt had been talking to his wife. She had called from home to say "Good-by, darling, I love you." Then he heard a thump as if her body had fallen to the floor.

Crossitt, who works for the U. S. Forestry service, got into his automobile and drove home in break-neck speed.

The door was locked. He rang the bell. He shouted.

Then he broke down the door. Crossitt found his attractive 38-year-old wife slumped beside the telephone, wearing her white satin wedding nightgown.

There was a note still clutched in her hand.

"Dear Floyd, I've always loved you better than life itself," the letter said, "so please don't think too harshly of me."

"Darling, it won't be necessary for you to see a lawyer now. To me anything would be better than that."

"Without you I wouldn't be worth anything."

"I've loved the children, and I've tried to make a home for them, but apparently I've failed, and I don't like failures."

"All my love, Sally."

Crossitt didn't read the letter until the police had arrived. First he had called for medical help. The doctor summoned the police.

Crossitt said they had quarreled. It wasn't as serious as his wife had thought, he said.

Physicians told Crossitt that his wife had died of an overdose of sleeping tablets.

Veteran Risks His Life to

Rescue Dog on Mountain Side

ATLANTA.—Sonny Wells, 21, balanced a debt to dogdom at the risk of his life by rescuing an old hound dog trapped several hundred feet down the sheer side of Stone mountain.

Years ago "an old hound dog" saved Wells from drowning and he vowed he would never forget.

When he found the trapped dog, the ex-G.I. climbed down the sheer facing, using spikes left in the mountainside by workers who once labored on an unfinished Confederate memorial in the granite. Wells found the dog on a ledge. "When I picked her up," said Wells, "she lapped my face."

Two friends lowered a rope and the dog was pulled to safety. Wells returned the way he came. When he reached the top he exhibited deep cuts in his feet. He had removed his shoes to make the descent.

5-Year-Old Boy's Alertness

Saves Baby Brother and Home

SOUTH BEND, IND.—Five-year-old Johnny Owens of South Bend was left home by his mother, Mrs. Mary Owens, to watch his two-year-old brother, Joe, while she went shopping.

Johnny saw the stove get fiery red and then began to pop. He ran to the phone, dialed the operator and shouted:

"Our stove is red hot. It's gonna bust any minute."

Police found Johnny standing on the sidewalk holding little Joe. Officers dashed inside and cooled off the blazing stove. They reported it would have set the house afire within a few moments.

Injured Mother Rescues Two

Children From Fire in Home

CORRY, PA.—Although painfully seared by flames which destroyed her home, a mother tossed two youngsters out a second story window to safety—then jumped out herself. She was unable to save another child, who burned to death.

Witnesses said Mrs. John Silvis, 28, dropped her daughter, Rose, 5, into the snow and her niece Margaret Ruffner, 7 months old, into the hands of neighbors who had gathered about the burning house. Her son, Larry, 2, burned to death.

Four Children Die, Mother

Is Burned in Blast of Stove

CHESANING, MICH.—Four children were burned to death and their mother was critically burned in a coal stove explosion and fire at their farm home north of here. The four dead were children of Mrs. Mary Courter, 26. Two other children were reported to have suffered burns. The fire was blamed on an attempt to refire the stove with kerosene.

Notorious Spy, Last of Ring, Given 10 Years

Teodoro E. E. Lau, German-Born Citizen of Argentina, Goes to Prison.

NEW YORK.—A stubby, swarthy man stood coolly before Judge Edward A. Conger. During an hour and a half of talk by attorneys, which seemed of no interest to him, he alternately clasped his hands behind him and folded his arms across his chest. Through thick lenses he peered steadily toward the bench.

At length Judge Conger said: "I'll accept the recommendation of the United States attorney: Ten years."

Thus Teodoro E. E. Lau, 44-year-old German-born citizen of Argentina, who last October thought it was safe to return to the United States, was punished for his admitted part in an espionage conspiracy to supply defense and military information to Nazi Germany "to the injury of the United States."

Last of Notorious Ring.

Automatically Lau turned from the bench as sentence was pronounced as if anticipating the approach of the United States marshal, and with no sign of emotion was escorted from the court room. He was the last sought of the notorious Ludwig spy ring.

United States Attorney John F. X. McGohey suggested to Judge Conger that it might have been the hand of Providence that led to the discovery of the ring in March, 1941, when the Berlin director of the spies, then on an inspection visit in New York, was struck fatally by a taxi cab. The director, Ulrich von der Osten, colonel of German intelligence, had papers that revealed his mission.

However, before the ring could be rounded up, Lau shipped from New Orleans to South Africa and thence to Buenos Aires, where he made his headquarters and conducted a hoisery business as a screen for his espionage.

Since a few days earlier when Lau had pleaded guilty Judge Conger said he had read Lau's statement to the Federal Bureau of Investigation and could find nothing in it to connect Lau with the indictment. "Do you still plead guilty?" the court asked.

Thorn Lord, defense attorney, jumped to his feet. "Oh, yes, your honor," he said.

"I'd rather hear that from the defendant himself," McGohey said. "If there's any question about the guilt of this man, I'll move to strike the plea and go to trial."

Tells of Conspiracy.

The prosecutor then read a prepared statement detailing, much as if at trial, Lau's part in the conspiracy.

spiracy. It portrayed the defendant as an important link in the ring, receiving orders directly from Von der Osten and acting as a relay of important information between the spies in New York and Berlin headquarters.

McGohey told Judge Conger how Kurt Frederick Ludwig, New York leader of the ring who was imprisoned for 20 years, had boasted that information he supplied had sunk nine ships.

McGohey said that Lau admitted his association with Von der Osten, trips made to New York to confer with the Ludwig spies and payments made to Ludwig. The prosecutor disclosed that records seized by the American army in Germany contained numerous references to "Bill," the code name assigned to Lau. At request of Judge Conger, McGohey read a letter from Lau to Von der Osten in which the defendant discussed his activities.

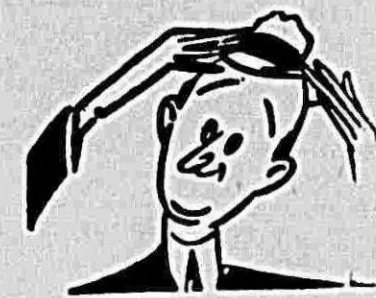

Clean Gas Burners

Clogged gas burners increase the amount of fuel needed for heating, thus adding to the fuel bill. You can tell by the color of its flame whether or not a burner needs cleaning. If there is much yellow color, try cleaning the burner with a steel brush after the gas has been turned off.

a great help"

PEOPLE who live in the country really need and appreciate good telephone service. We know that—and we're doing our best to provide more and better rural service as fast as possible.

We're building more lines . . . adding more equipment . . . in the rural areas we serve. At the present rate, we expect to complete in two years our goal of 21,000 installations—originally scheduled as a three-year job!

We're improving rural service, too! More customers have fewer rings of other parties on their lines. Last year over 5,000 magneto telephones were replaced with modern crankless instruments.

Soon thousands more families in Illinois Bell's rural territory will have modern, fast, efficient telephone service.

Antioch Boys Help Plant Trees At District Camp

Five representatives from Lake County took part in the tree-planting ceremonies held at Camp Shaw-waw-nas-see, the northern Illinois district 4-H camp in Kankakee county, on April 12, according to Ray T. Nicholas, Lake County farm adviser.

Representing the 4-H club were George Gossell and Joe Kirby of the Antioch 4-H club. Rural Youthers who participated were Bill Jenkins and Albert Holst, Jr., of the Ivanhoe 4-H club.

Four-H members from Lake county were responsible for planting two Ginkgo or Maidenhair trees which are marked with the name of the county. Twenty-one other counties also participated in the tree planting, each group planting two trees of their own selection. In addition to the two trees selected and planted by each of the 22 counties, the entire group participated in the planting of 10 Asiatic Elm and 20 Soft or Silver Maple.

"Camp Shaw-waw-nas-see is located in a beautiful spot along Rock River," stated Mr. Nicholas, and the newly planted trees will help to enhance the area still more. Last year 8 young people from Lake County attended camp there even though only temporary facilities were available. We hope that still more 4-H members will be able to take advantage of the camp this summer."

Lake County boys and girls enrolled in agricultural clubs will have an opportunity to attend this district camp during the period of June 29-July 2. Lake County's quota for the camp is a total of 20 boys and girls. Those who desire to attend must have their reservations in to the Farm Adviser, not later than May 10.

Petition Circulated to Consolidate School 32 With Lake Villa District

A petition to consolidate the Cedar Lake School district No. 32 and transfer the pupils to Lake Villa is being circulated in that district following meeting of patrons at the school April 9.

Three-fourths of the persons attending the meeting agreed that it would be more desirable to consolidate the districts than to put up a new building at much expense and still not have the advantages of the larger school.

It was estimated that 200 signatures will be needed, and if they are obtained the transfer can be made at once by County Superintendent W. C. Petty. There are 40 pupils in the school.

Soft Floors Restful
The resiliency of wood floors, such as oak and other popular types, is recognized as a health factor in industry. Workers are said to experience less fatigue when standing for long periods on wood floors than on hard, unyielding floors made of various manufactured materials.

Egg Weight
Extra large eggs are supposed to weigh 26 ounces per dozen, large eggs 24 ounces per dozen, medium eggs 21 ounces per dozen, and small or pullet eggs 18 ounces per dozen.

Hybrid Acreage Up
Hybrid corn acreage in the United States has expanded from about one-tenth of 1 per cent in 1931 to 64 per cent in 1945, says the department of agriculture.

Fur Raising State
